

Erin Harry Pugh, Business Administration Apprentice, Print Unit

Medical Illustration

Hiya I'm Erin, I started my apprenticeship in the Medical Illustration Print Department in December 2019 and I thoroughly enjoyed every single minute of it. It has taught me so many new skills and it has also improved the skills I already had. It has really kick started my career in the NHS. It has improved my verbal and written communication, my team work ability, my organisation skills, my problem solving techniques, my IT skills, my confidence and so much more. I have had endless support from my manager and from my colleagues, I could not have asked for a better start in my career.
