Happy New Year!

From all the Library Staff

Why not make a New Year Resolution to start 2018 by organising your Current Awareness alerts? Here are some suggestions to begin with:

- ♦ Choose your favourite journal and set up Table of Contents alerts for each new issue. You can do this on the journal's website, or through Clinical Key if it is a journal published by Elsevier.
- ♦ You can also register for Content Updates on Clinical Key at:
<https://elsevierresources.com/clinicalkey/clinicalkey/content-updates/>
This monthly email tells you about new Clinical Overviews, new e-books and new e-journals.
- ♦ Sign up for regular alerts from UpToDate tailored to your speciality at:
https://go.wolterskluwer.com/utd_ind_cms_contact_info.html
- ♦ Subscribe to UpToDate Clinical Podcasts, in which clinical experts discuss "What's New" and "Practice changing updates". Subscribe to the podcast channel at:
<https://itunes.apple.com/us/podcast/uptodate-talk/id1065964913?mt=2>
- ♦ When you have Registered on UpToDate, any topics which you have previously viewed will display an orange dot when they are updated and you read them again.
- ♦ Arrange regular alerts from a database search. Rosemary will run the search for you and will then set up alerts for new articles on the topic, sent direct to your email. Rosemary also provides a general database search service.

For help with any of these, please contact Rosemary
