There was a negative impact in terms of age, gender reassignment, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion or belief, sex and sexual orientation. ● Plymouth Hospitals NHS Trust - Appraisal and Personal Development Policy found its policy to have no evidence to suggest there is a disproportionate impact on race, religion, disability, sex, sexual orientation, age and human rights. Also that they have no data collected for gender identity and socio-economic, therefore monitoring these areas via feedback collected from staff. ● Royal Cornwall Hospitals NHS Trust – Mandatory and Statutory Training policy, found there to be no adverse impact in relation to age, sex, race/ ethnic communities/ groups, disability, religion/ other beliefs, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity or sexual orientation. ● Nottingham University Hospitals NHS Trust – Mandatory Training Policy identified some considerations in relation to disability with regards to access issues and barriers to a full learning experience i.e. physical disability and location of training, visual impairment, hearing impairment and learning disabilities. Their recommendation was to provide additional learner support brochures where specific requirements can be provided. Where a training podcast has a film clip in a script if this is available, also to provide training in different formats – classroom based podcasts are available as a back-up option to e-learning training. They also identified that staff on maternity leave would remain on their non-compliance reports as they are unable to filter them out. All remaining categories had no impact identified.

	Wellbeing' Strategy provides an overview of health need³.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Royal United Hospital Bath and Royal Cornwall Hospitals NHS Trust both undertook an equality screen on their study leave policy and found there to be no adverse impact in terms of age, disability, gender reassignment, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion and belief, sex, sexual orientation, marriage and civil partnership. • Barnsley Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG) in their Study Leave Policy found there to be neutral impact in terms of Human rights, Carers, Disability, Religion or belief, Sexual orientation, gender reassignment, Marriage and civil partnership and other relevant groups, however identified a positive impact for age in that it ensures that staff of all age groups have fair and equitable access to study support to progress their careers in line with their individual requirements, which will allow people to pursue their own career path. In terms of sex in that it ensure that a fair process is in place regardless of sex and race in that it allows staff of any gender or race to pursue their careers in line with their own individual wishes. For pregnancy and maternity to ensure that staff who choose to have children are still able to pursue the individual career path they wish to and for part or fixed term staff to ensure that a fair process is in place for equal access to training for all staff. • City College Plymouth in their Plagiarism and Academic Dishonesty Procedure EIA found their procedure to have a possible adverse impact on those with learning difficulties and disabilities, international students, partnership and part-time students and student at entry level 3 to level 1. To overcome the negative impact, 7 points were recommended in their EQIA such as the introduction of an electronic plagiarism tool, to have reviews conducted by their international office, ESOL lecturers etc. • On the ACAS website it is noted that fairness in the workplace is a vital part of a successful public body and supported by the Equality Act 2010. The aim of the Act is to improve equal job opportunities and fairness for employees and job applicants and highlighting it is unlawful to discriminate against people at work because of age, disability, gender reassignment, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion or belief, sex, and sexual orientation. It also highlights the benefits of promoting equality and diversity such that employees have a better chance of getting training, career development and promotion opportunities and developing skills, knowledge and experience relevant to the role which thereby benefits the individual and the organization as a whole. • ACAS states that an employer must consider making 'reasonable adjustments' for a disabled employee or job applicant if: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ It becomes aware of their disability and/ or ○ They ask for adjustments to be made and/ or ○ A disabled employee is having difficulty with any part of their job and/ or

6. EQIA / How will the strategy, policy, plan, procedure and/or service impact on people?

How will the strategy, policy, plan, procedure and/or service impact on:-	Potential positive and/or negative impacts	Recommendations for improvement/ mitigation	Action taken by Clinical Board / Corporate Directorate. Make reference to where the mitigation is included in the document, as appropriate
6.1 Age For most purposes, the main categories are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • under 18; • between 18 and 65; and • over 65 	This Policy and accompanying procedures have a positive impact on this group by ensuring that the same processes are followed irrespective of the age of the individual concerned. Organisationally we employ very few individuals under age of 21, and have an aging workforce. There is now an expectation for all staff to complete their required level 1 statutory / mandatory training via e-learning. This expectation means that all staff of all ages are skilled up to use technology. As mentioned previously there is an aging workforce, who may not have the skills to complete this training, therefore access to classroom training is offered as an alternative. There is evidence which suggests that people over the age of 50 struggle to find a new job, training or promotion opportunities. This policy prevents discrimination and has a positive impact by setting out the processes to be followed when an employee needs to undertake and take study leave for training regardless of their age. Staff are expected to have a PADR, irrespective of age,

How will the strategy, policy, plan, procedure and/or service impact on:-	Potential positive and/or negative impacts	Recommendations for improvement/ mitigation	Action taken by Clinical Board / Corporate Directorate. Make reference to where the mitigation is included in the document, as appropriate
	however development needs may change with age e.g. older workers on the top of a pay band may have no desire to undertake any further development. 6.2 Persons with a disability as defined in the Equality Act 2010 Those with physical impairments, learning disability, sensory loss or impairment, mental health conditions, long-term medical conditions such as diabetes	Employers are required to make reasonable adjustments for disabled employees. This would include adapting and providing training materials to staff where there may be a visual or hearing impairing or learning disability. The flexibility of alternative learning offerings are now available, which includes being able to access mandatory training e-learning from home devices.
6.3 People of different genders: Consider men, women, people undergoing gender reassignment NB Gender-reassignment is anyone who proposes to,	This policy and accompanying procedures have a positive impact on this group by ensuring that the same processes are followed irrespective of the gender of the individual concerned. Women are more likely to have a break in service to raise a family, which could have an effect on their ability to undertake development and career progression.

Sometimes referred to as Trans or Transgender	More female employees work part time, therefore the study leave entitlement will be pro rata based on their contracted hours.

They are protected for 26 weeks after having a baby whether or not they are on maternity leave.	This policy and accompanying procedures have a positive impact on this group by ensuring that the same processes are followed irrespective of the maternity leave. Maternity is no reason for women’s careers to go on hold. Performance reviews and training can be worked around or into maternity leave. For instance a Keeping in Touch day could be used to attend a performance review – equality and human rights commission.

6.7 People with a religion or belief or with no religion or belief. The term 'religion' includes a religious or philosophical belief	This policy and accompanying procedures have a positive impact on this group by ensuring that the same processes are followed irrespective of the religion or belief.
