| SUPPORTING CARER'S GUIDELINES  |   |
| Introduction and Aim We are committed to improving the health and wellbeing of our employees by providing flexible arrangements to meet the needs of staff with caring responsibilities, where possible, whilst maintaining the standard of service and consistency of patient care. Cardiff and Vale University Health Board (the UHB) recognise that employees with caring responsibilities may require short term arrangements for either child or dependent care, or for longer term requirements have the 'right to request' flexible working arrangements. We understand and acknowledge that caring responsibilities may potentially impact on a member of staff's ability to do their job. The organisation will work within the principles contained in these guidelines, and other associated policies to ensure that staff are not unfairly disadvantaged by such responsibilities and are able to successfully combine their work and caring responsibilities. The organisation values each individual and strives to retain staff and accommodate where possible their changing circumstances whilst balancing the needs of the service. Supporting staff to achieve a positive work/ life balance with caring responsibilities can be beneficial as staff are likely to feel more valued, thus be more productive and satisfied at work. These guidelines set out a range of short and long term options available to staff through agreement with their line manager. Application of these guidelines will be in accordance with the principles of the Health Board's Equality, Inclusion &amp; Human Rights Policy, Special Leave Policy and Flexible Working Procedure. |   |
| Objectives <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• To ensure there is an agreed process to support staff with caring responsibilities and helping them manage a healthy work-life balance.</li> <li>• To ensure that staff are aware of options available to support them with caring responsibilities.</li> <li>• To ensure that managers are aware of, and understand their responsibilities in responding to staff who have caring responsibilities.</li> <li>• Ensure there is consistency, fairness and transparency with support offered to carers.</li> </ul>   |   |
| Scope These guideline apply to all employees of the Health Board who have caring responsibilities.   |   |
| Equality and Health Impact Assessment   | These Guidelines are covered by the Adaptable Workforce Policy EHIA – this found there to be a positive impact |

| 1 | Definition According to The Work and Families Act 2006 the definition of a Carer is an employee who is or expects to be caring for an adult who: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>-Is married to, or the partner or civil partner of the employee; or</li> <li>-is a near relative of the employee; or</li> <li>-falls into neither category but lives at the same address as the employee.</li> </ul> -The “near relative” definition includes parents, parents in law, adult child (a son or daughter who has reached the age of majority), adopted adult a child, siblings (including those who are in-laws), uncles, aunts or grandparents and step relatives. -Childcare covers a range of care choices from children from birth up to the age of 14 years and with a child with disabilities up to the age of 18. This applies to a person caring for a child who has additional needs or require caring responsibilities. -For the purposes of these guidelines a carer will be regarded as an individual that provides help and support to a child, partner, relative or friend (as outlined above) on a regular basis. The dependant individual would not be able to manage without the help that is provided because of physical or mental fragility, illness, vulnerability or disability. |
| 2 | Responsibilities Line Managers are responsible for: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>-Recognising that caring responsibilities can be unpredictable and that the need to care can sometimes arise unexpectedly as a result, for example, of sudden illness or incident / accident. Where possible the line manager should respond to these requests at short notice with flexibility and understanding</li> <li>-Producing a carers support plan with the member of staff and review the plan with them regularly.</li> <li>-Knowing their staff and being aware of the staff with caring responsibilities in their department that have been discussed or disclosed to them and knowing the needs of the member of staff to assist them with their caring responsibilities (enable them to be a carer.) Some staff undertaking a carer’s role may not recognise this as a role, as it may often be a function of a personal, social or family relationship.</li> <li>-Treating staff within their department with caring responsibilities fairly. Carers may sometimes be reluctant to acknowledge their caring responsibilities, for fear of discrimination against them.</li> </ul>  |

-It is important that caring responsibilities are discussed in confidence and that line managers are sensitive towards each individual case and ensure that staff are not discriminated against on the ground of their caring responsibilities.

-Signposting staff with caring responsibilities in their team to resources offered by the department, Employee Assistance Programmes, Patient Experience Team's Carer Support, Workshops available outside the organisation and our services within Occupational Health Services and Employee Wellbeing

-Managers should ensure information on carers rights, such as the right to a Carers Assessment, are displayed in appropriate staff areas so that staff are signposted to the Health Boards Information and Support Centres.

-Providing and allowing access to a telephone to make appropriate calls in confidence whilst in work, to check on the person they are caring for when required

-Providing staff with caring responsibilities advance notice if they are required to attend training, meetings or work outside their usual shift pattern, so that alternative care arrangements can be made.

-Respond positively to flexible working requests and be responsible for assisting staff to explore options of what may be appropriate for their situation. A flexible approach to accommodating appointments can be made to avoid the member of staff utilising a greater amount of their annual leave because of their caring responsibilities. Management can also support staff using the Managing Attendance at Work Policy.

-Taking a positive and flexible approach with staff with caring responsibilities during any organisational change process and recognise that carer's may not be able to work particular shifts due to caring responsibilities.

-Requests for flexible working may be required on a short term basis to maintain their attendance in work. Tailored adjustments as part of the Managing Attendance at Work Policy may also be considered to ensure support is provided and retain the member of staff in work.

Staff with caring responsibilities are responsible for:

-Informing their line manager of any caring responsibilities they have for someone. The manager may then be in position to offer support to the member of staff, whilst balancing the needs of the service. A carers support plan will be compiled in partnership with their line manager detailing the adjustments made and the plan should be reviewed regularly.

-Updating their line manager of any change with their caring responsibilities.

|          | -Ensuring that they have care arrangements in place to fulfil their contractual duty of attending work. However, there may be occasions when emergency time off is requested to care for dependants. The People Services Department is responsible for: -Signposting line managers and staff with caring responsibilities to relevant resources and support that are available to help carers via Occupational Health Department and Employee Wellbeing website ie Managing Health &amp; Wellbeing staff checklist, as well as the Patient Experience Team Carer Support. -Supporting the line manager in considering flexible working requests from staff with caring responsibilities. Trade Unions Responsibility -To signpost line managers and staff with caring responsibilities resources and support that are available to help carers within the Health Board or Trade Union membership. -Support staff with exploring appropriate options to accommodate their work commitments and caring responsibilities, in particular if requests are made to their line manager’s with short notice for emergency situations. -Support members during meetings to discuss their carers support plan with their manager. |
| 3 | Principles   |
|          | The Guidelines seek to ensure the following principles: -Two way communication between the line manager and staff if they are caring for a dependant, so that appropriate support can be offered and discussed. This may be difficult to predict in advance. -The manager and member of staff discuss and agree a carer’s support plan to document the communication and arrangements agreed. The caring responsibilities may vary at different times. Agreements can be made regarding who the carer’s support plan is shared with if the line manager leaves or is not available. -Carers are covered under the Equality Act 2010 under “disability by association”, and “disability discrimination”. The equality act protects carers from being treated unfairly due to their association to the person they care for, Staff who are carers should be treated fairly and not discriminated against because of their responsibilities as a carer or because of the individual they care for.   |

|  | -Requests for staff with caring responsibilities will be considered promptly. A positive and flexible approach should be taken to consider cases received from carers.  |
|  | Types of Support   |
|  | Dealing with stress is one of the key issues for staff who are carers. It is difficult to find time to 'switch off'. The overall impact of stress can be detrimental to all parties, From the carers themselves to the person they are caring for, any other dependants they may have, as well as for the organisation and the services it provides. It is therefore crucial that the organisation supports each member of staff to its best ability and one of the key areas is recognising the signs of stress and putting workable solutions in place. 1. Supporting Policies 1) Carers Support PlanThe line manager and member should complete a carer's support plan which will document the agreed arrangements that are put in place to support and accommodate the caring responsibilities held by the member of staff that may impact their working arrangement. The carer's support plan will enable both the line manager and member of staff to make a formal agreement of change in hours, duties and reporting arrangements that are reviewed on a regular basis. 2) Workplace Adjustments that can be made for carers: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Access to a telephone whilst in work, for communication required for their caring responsibilities.</li> <li>-Positive and flexible approach to responding to annual leave requests at short notice.</li> <li>-Flexible and positive approach from management to accommodating adjustments requested and agreed on a carers care plan.</li> </ul> 3) Options of Leave Available to carers: - Unpaid carer's leave – one week.From 6th April 2024 unpaid carers in employment have the statutory right to take up to one week's unpaid leave per year. The leave can be taken for a dependant with a long term care need, agreed with their line manager. No minimum services is required for carer's leave to be taken and 5 days can be taken separately over a 12 month rolling period. The unpaid carer's leave can be input on ESR under "Unpaid Authorised Special-Carer's Leave." The form to also instruct payroll should be completed on Cardiff &amp; Vale Webpage ....https://cavuhb.nhs.wales/files/forms/cv-unpaid-absence-form-v2-01-xlsm/ -Special Leave |

Appendix 3 - Main Legislative/Policy Developments affecting Carers in Wales since 1995

| Development  | Key change for Carers* column highlights selected provisions and does not aim to summarise all aspects of the development indicated   |
|--|---|
| Carers (Recognition and Services) Act (1995)                             | Introduced the concept of a Carers Assessment   |
| Carers Strategy in Wales: Implementation Plan 1 (2000) Policy document   | Stressed that enabling carers to combine work and care was a priority for Government, in line with the UK National Strategy issued in 1999.   |
| Employment Relations Act (1999)  | Gave employees the right to 'reasonable time off' to deal with emergencies  |
| Carers and Disabled Children Act (2000)                                  | Gave carers the right to an assessment (carers of adults and disabled children). Allowed carers to receive services in their own right and introduced direct payments to purchase these. Direct payments offered to parents of disabled children to manage on their children's behalf |
| Changes to Invalid Care Allowance (now known as Carers Allowance) (2000) | Amendment to the Social Security and Benefits Act 1992, which included extending carers' benefits to people aged 65 and over  |
| Employment Act (2002)  | Gave employed parents of disabled children, under the age of 18, the right to request flexible working arrangements   |
| Children Act (2004)  | Required local authorities to lead on joined up service delivery through multi agency Children's Trusts. Strong emphasis on supporting families and carers, described as 'the most critical influence on children's lives'  |
| Carers (Equal Opportunities) Act (2004)                                  | Placed a statutory duty on local authorities to inform Carers of their rights and to consider Carers' wishes in relation to education, training and employment when conducting Carers Assessments   |
| Work and Families Act (2006)   | Extended the right to request flexible working arrangements to all recognised Carers in employment from April 2007  |

|--|---|
| Pensions Act (2007)                                | Recognised carers' situations and reduced the number of qualifying years needed for a full, basic state pension and introduced the new Carers Credit for those caring 20+ hours a week for someone who is severely disabled   |
| One Wales (2007)                                   | Coalition Agreement between Labour and Plaid Cymru includes a pledge to introduce legislation to improve support for Carers   |
| Revised National Carers' Strategy (2008)           | The Welsh Assembly carried out a consultation exercise in 2006 to re-focus its Carers Strategy, issuing an Action Plan in 2007. In 2007, it was working closely with the UK Government in its consultation and has pledged to revise the Wales Carers Strategy in light of the new deal for Carers  |
| Sharon Coleman –v- Attridge Law and Steve Law Case | Case Law established around discrimination 'by association'. Sharon Coleman was denied flexible working conditions at her employers, which were available to other staff, to allow her to care for her disabled son   |
| Equality Act 2010                                  | As a result of the Sharon Coleman case, the Equality Act extends protection, not just in relation to employment, but also across the provision of goods and services. The Act also aims to extend the Carers ruling of 'discrimination through association to disability' across other 'protected characteristics' of Sex, Gender Reassignment, Disability and Age For the first time, Carers will be protected from direct discrimination (and harassment) because of their association with people who are protected from discrimination themselves |
